ON THE TARIFF QUESTION. As the terms of tariff bill will be finmined in the conference come. It matters little what was done y the House or may be done by the ate, except as their differing votes may be made the bases of compromisby the conferees. Still an analysis of the Senate bill is interesting. Acing to Senator Culberson, 1,271 of 1.943 duties in the Dingley tariff er of decreases is 375. The Persian Shah who ascended the in January, 1907, found his untry under a constitution, and on ov. 23, 1908, he repealed it. Since then, the people have agitated for a renewal of the constitution, and their move took on a revolutionary aspect which resulted promptly in, at the sugsestion of Great Britain, an invasion by Russian troops. Now, the Sultan probably aware of the clinging character of Russian occupation of foreign territory and desirous of furnishing a basis for a demand for withdrawal of the Russian troops, has restored the stitution. Nevertheless, the partition of Persia is apparently a matter of perhaps the not very distant future.

According to the Hartford correspon dent of a Springfield paper. Gov. Weeks named Gardiner Greene of Norwich to the Superior Court bench because of a remembrance of his active part in the preparation of the last re vision of the Connecticut statutes, But the correspondent adds: That compilation as first produced made an unfortunate impression, from which none concerned can wholly escape until it is known definitely on what portios the several members were actively engaged, but it was thought at the time its errors began to be dis-covered that Mr. Greene was one of those who had been most careless. Rightly or wrongly, this impression spread and has something to do with criticism of the appointment. The first copies were called in and a new edi-tion was prepared. One of the other grounds of complaint was that laws had been changed without sufficient notice to the legislators, who hastily accepted the report and authorized the book as a compilation of the statutes.

According to Senator Dolliver Iowa, the Senate tariff bill is tricky and reactionary. As an ex-member of the House committee on Ways and mission bill prepared by Senator Altwenty-one years ago. GENERAL STRIKE THROUGH FRANCE COMING SOON

(Special from United Press.) Paris, May 6 .- The headquarters of the General Labor Confederation officially stated to-day that a general strike throughout the whole of France is a question of only a few days if the government continues its suspension of government employes for their par ticipation in the general movement to-ward unionism. The declaration of the strike will depend largely upon the answer that Premier Clemencess makes to the delegation from the la bor confederation that will demand of him the restoration of the suspend-ed employes, a guarantee against future suspensions and the retiremen of M. Simyan, under secretary o posts.

Clemenceau has intimated that he will fight the demands. If he does the labor leaders say the strike will be declared within a week. The conference between th labor men and Clemenceau was scheduled to take place today but owing to the latter's illness of influenza it may be postponed. The Laborites say that they can call of the House committee on Ways and Means, he is well qualified to speak on tariff matters. He has been an insider, and when he charges that certain schedules were constructed by their beneficiaries, he undoubtedly knows whereof he speaks. It is now said that he proposes to revive a tariff-commission bill prepared by Senator Alageral The Laborites say that they can call out at the start all the post office, telegraph, telephone and railroad employes in the country and shortly extend the strike until a complete tie-up results. That the government intends to match its strength against the laborites say that they can call out at the start all the post office, telegraph, telephone and railroad employes in the country and shortly extend the strike until a complete tie-up results. That the government intends to match its strength against the laboring people is indicated by the preparations it is making for the hard-est fight in the history of the country. It has established an automobile and a carrier pigeon postoffice system and drich and the late Senator Allison is arranging to use all the French twenty-one years ago. When it ap-
